Scars: chapter 0

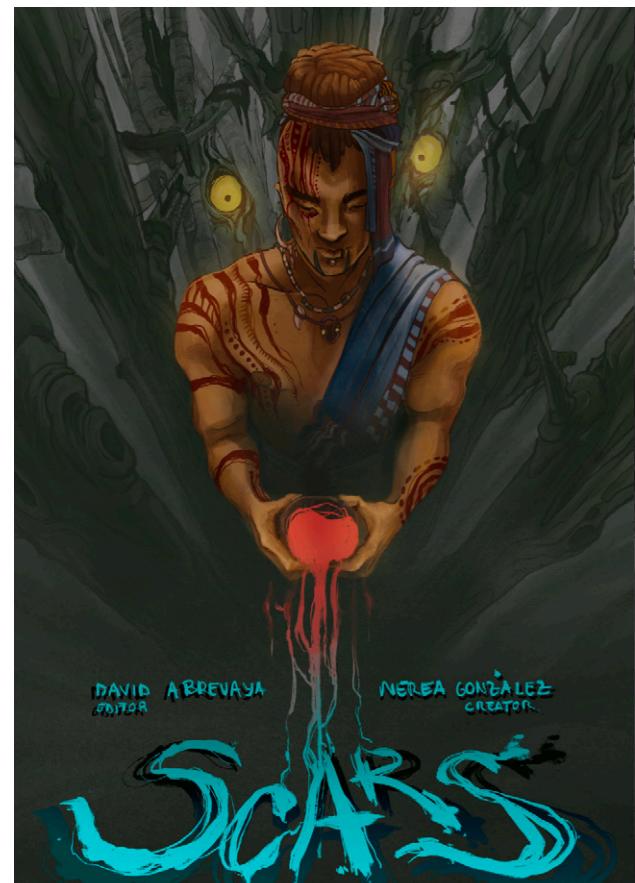

This project is a comic in development here you can see the concepts of the principle characters.

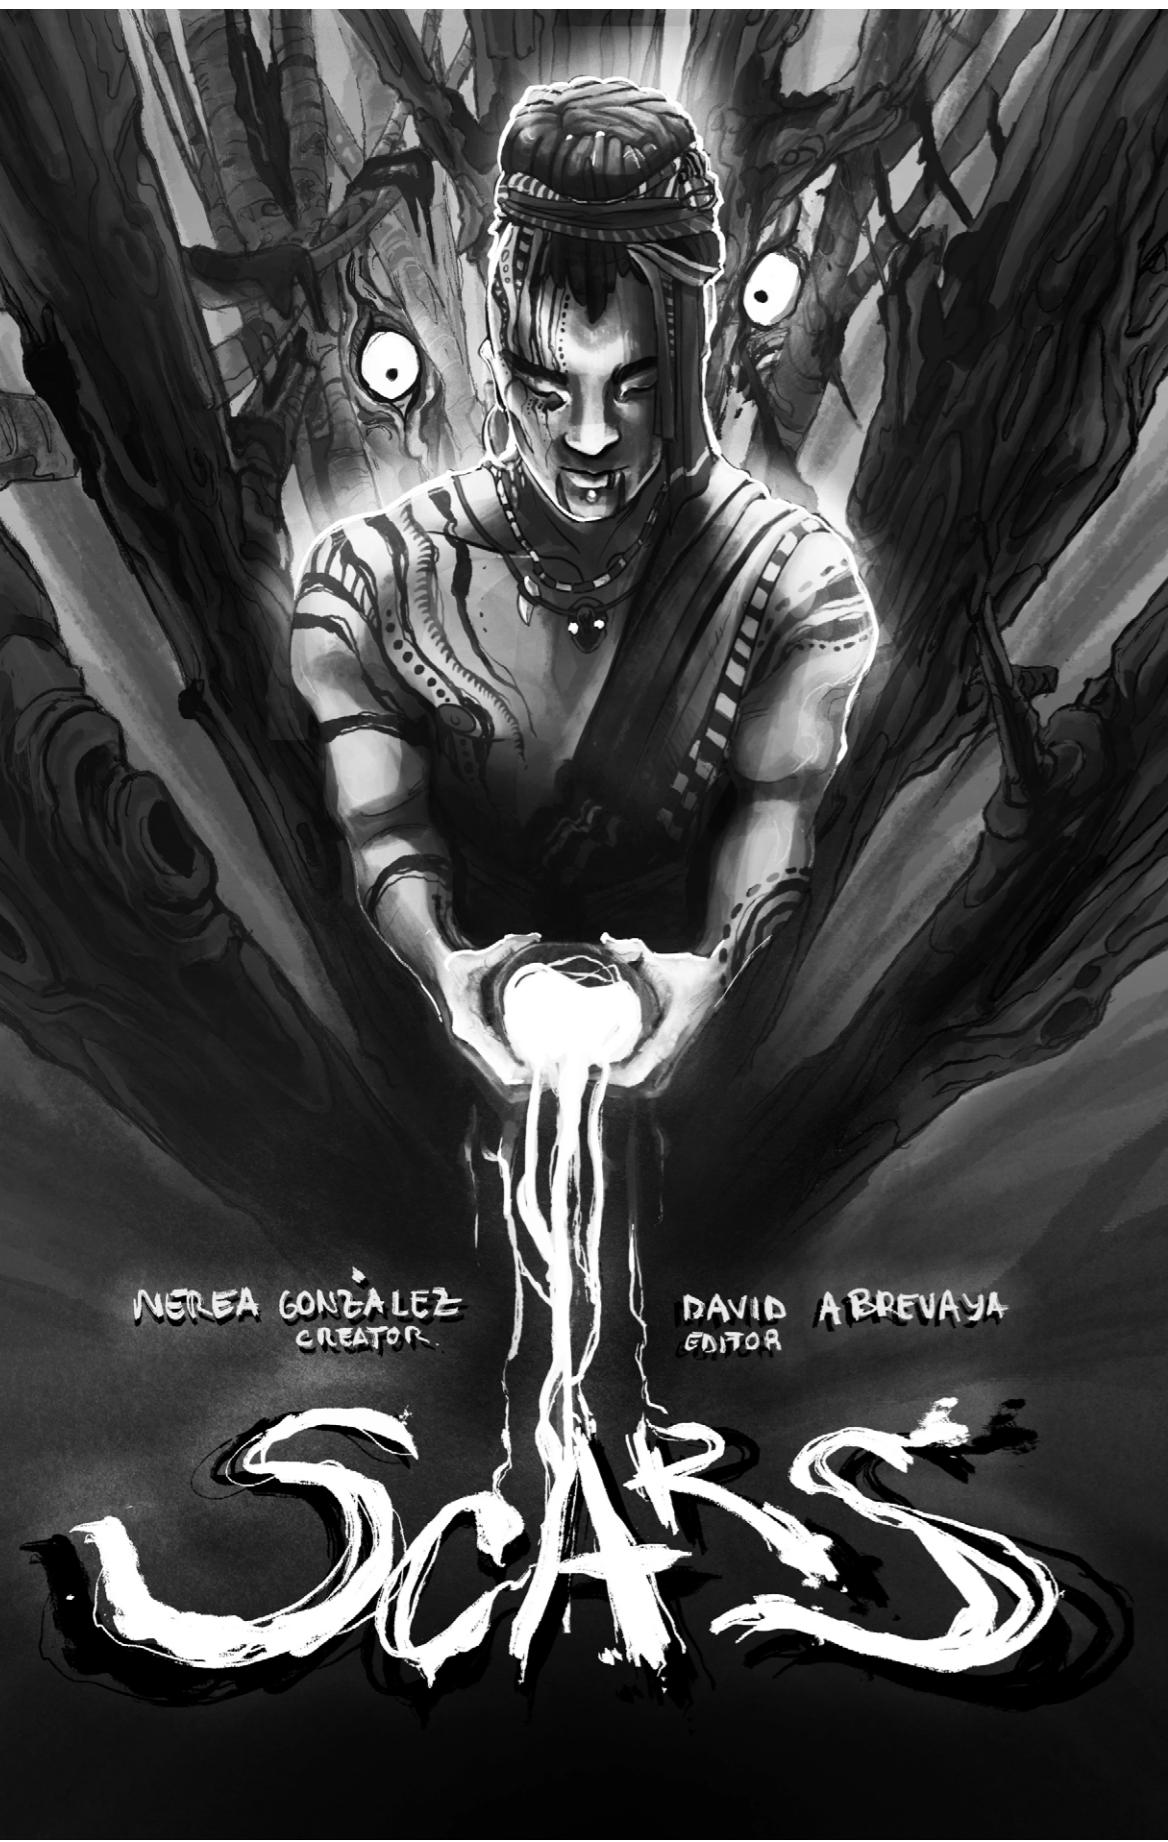

Xandra, the one who years ago went to kill the blood-seeker beast.

Anxela, her granddaughter, with her intuition and necessity for not being bored, she realise something is off in her village.

The Blind

This is a comic book project with the purpose of showing how we usually ignore the people who suffer around us.

With that on mind and the Allegory of the cave as a base I created this short, experimental and deep story.

Devil Reign

Professional work as a colorist in the serie Devil Reign.

Character commission

As a freelance artist I took different art commissions to make human versions of some dragon Oc's.

Mural Paint

Professional work for an event, I create this character to represent the welder's job. It was paint in a welder's neighborhood.
